Richard Bradley, a resident of the city, has submitted the following question to be put to the Council meeting on 30 January, 2019.

“I believe that Sunderland councils waste management programme is failing the city with financial and environmental consequences we can ill afford however the opposition parties are silent on this matter and the portfolio holder disagrees. Therefore can Cllr Wilson give me one government statistic on waste she is proud of and where Sunderland is better than the regional average?”

Rachel Lowe, a resident of the city, has submitted the following question to be put to the Council meeting on 30 January, 2019.

“The recent IPCC report gave the world only 12 years to take the decisive action necessary to avoid a climate disaster. Labour councils such as London, Manchester and Bradford have all declared a ‘Climate Emergency’ and have committed to being carbon-neutral by 2030, will Sunderland council do the same?”

Dom Armstrong, a resident of the city, has submitted the following question to be put to the Council meeting on 30 January, 2019.

“The desire to save our Green belt engaged thousands of residents but didn’t change the local plan at all. Why did the council choose to dismiss the opinion of those it is supposed to represent?”

Rachel Featherstone, a resident of the city, has submitted the following question to be put to the Council meeting on 30 January, 2019.

“Last week the Sunderland Echo reported that 2,000 people are waiting for social housing, particularly bungalows. Would the council pledge to make providing these homes a priority rather than the wholly unnecessary executive homes they plan on the Greenbelt?”

Heather Fagan, a resident of the city, has submitted the following question to be put to the Council meeting on 30 January, 2019.

“In recent months the council have enforced their third party contracts within the adult care to introduce a telephone ‘check in’ service, which involves care workers to report in when they arrive and leave a service users home. This means that care workers do not get paid for any travelling time between each visit, hence they could work a 12 hour day yet only be paid for 8. Can the council explain how this aligns with the ethos of their ‘great job’ motion?”
